Lounge Bar "le Navi"

MetalDesign

The wire mesh chosen by the Architect Colonnelli for the construction of partition walls of the Alitalia lounge bar at the airport of Fiumicino has focused on product R&R.

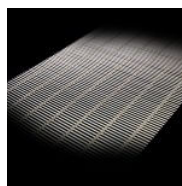

Ideal to create dividers that leave the space intact, while creating virtual separation and transparency between different environments.

Wall sculptures that play a leading role, representing the perfect match between technology and harmony of that space, creating a pleasant environment where you can waiting your flight in peace and quiet.
